Improvement of School and Classroom Culture and Climate

Across stakeholder groups, the importance of improving school and classroom culture and climate emerged as a theme. This manifested in recommendations fultiple types of professional development including Social Emotional Learning, abt as and antiracist training. Stakeholders reiterated the need for a continued focus on disproportionate suspension rates, in particular the disproportionate rates of suspension for African American students, Students with Disabilities, Foster Youth, and Homeless Youth. Also noted in feedback was the impact of curriculum on culture and climate. Specific examples included the stated need for curricular materials that are reflective of the Black/African American experience, expand awareness of and increase partnership with tribal educators to provide instruction about the American Indian and Alaska Native experience, provision of materials that support and value homeulages, and consistency in providing instruction that is culturally relevant and historically accurate.

Coherence and Consistency in Providing an Equitable and Inclusive Educational Program in all Classrooms and Schools

An overarching theme that overlaps with many other priorities was stakeholders' call for coherence and consistency in the district's Tier 1 program. This call reaffirmed the demand that all students have equitable access to a quality education. Stakeholders emphasized the fact that it should not matter where a student lives, whether they have opted into a program of choice, or which classroom they are assignthency on should be able to expect the same highality, standardsaligned, and enriching program inside and outside of the classroom everywhere in SCUSD. This includes access to the programs of the classroom everywhere in SCUSD. This strand of feedback encompassed the urgency communicated by stakeholders regarding implementation of the District Commassessments, the differentiation of instruction in all classrooms, the implementation of Universal Design for Learning (UDL) practices, and the provision of effective Designated and Integrated English Language Development (ELD).

Equitable Allocation 6 Resources

A wide range of stakeholder feedback connected to the common theme of providing more resources to the students, families, programs, and schools that demonstrate the highest needs. This included consistent emphasis that targeted funding be with effectively to address the needs of the students who generate that funding. Related feedback included the need to further disaggregate data reporting and target outcomes and maintaining the transparency of how targeted funds are used.
